

John Synowicki is a graduate of the Vanderbilt University School of Law and a health care shareholder out of the Dallas office for Polsinelli. John advises hospitals, ambulatory surgical centers, and health systems nationwide regarding credentialing and peer review matters, regulatory and operational issues, end of life matters, emergency detention issues, and reimbursement dispute matters. John also represents hospitals and health systems in State and Federal litigation and arbitration when disputes escalate.

John has written and lectured on a variety of health law topics, including credentialing, peer review, compliance, provider health and well-being, risk management, and the medical staff fair hearing process. He is an active member of the National Association of Medical Staff Services, the American Health Lawyers Association, and the Oklahoma and Texas Bar Associations